

MARKING & FEEDBACK POLICY

This policy complements the Teaching and Learning Policy at The Dean Trust. It is a vital component in maximising the full learning potential of all our pupils.

The aim of Feedback and Marking is to lead to improvement in pupils' understanding and work.

1. Introduction

'Feedback is one of the most powerful influences on learning and achievement' (Hattie and Timperley 2007, Review of Educational Research March 2007, Vol. 77, No. 1, pp. 81–112)

In order to be positively effective ... "feedback must answer three major questions asked by a teacher and/or by a pupil:

- Where am I going? (What are the goals?),
- How am I going? (What progress is being made toward the goal?), and
- Where to next? (What activities need to be undertaken to make better progress?)

This policy sets out how the use of effective marking, feedback and response is consistently utilised across our school to benefit primary aged pupils.

Effective feedback given to pupils through marking and reviewing work will provide constructive steps for every pupil to ensure progress. It will focus on success and improvement needs against learning intentions and success criteria; enabling pupils to become reflective learners and helping them to close the gap between current and desired performance.

2. Principles

- Wherever possible, pupils should be involved in feedback and marking practices encouraging a dialogue for learning between pupils and adults
- All adults working with pupils should give feedback on their learning
- The manner in which feedback is given should reflect the positive, but rigorous, learning culture of the school
- Feedback may be written and/or oral
- It may be immediate or reflective (i.e. working with the pupil or marked away from the pupil)
- Pupils should be given opportunities to respond to marking and feedback as soon as possible after it has been given
- Feedback identifies where pupils have been successful in their learning and highlights areas for improvement or extra challenge
- Feedback and marking should predominantly focus on the learning objective, success criteria and differentiated expectations. However, spelling, grammar and presentation should also be commented on, as appropriate, according to the pupils' age related expectations
- It should also take into account pupils' targets and their progress towards these

- Feedback and marking will also provide positive feedback and promote high expectations and engagement in learning

3. Non-negotiable Procedures for Marking.

All marking is to be carried out in red pen

All pupil feedback is to be completed in purple.

All marking is to be done in a clear legible hand aligned to the school handwriting script.

All Teaching Assistants and Supply etc. will mark using green Pen

The marking code is to be followed in all cases. (see Appendix 1)

All pupils must mark I, T, TA etc their work and self-assess each lesson. (See Appendix 1)

The marking code should be accessible to all pupils in the learning environment and in all of their books.

In Literacy at least 1 piece of work per pupil should be developmentally marked in depth per week; this must include a 'What Went Well' and Even Better If'.

4. Marking Strategies

Approaches:

- Oral feedback – given by an adult in the presence of the pupil or group of pupils. This may happen whilst the pupils are working or after the learning has taken place. A record of this could take any of the following forms;
 - Annotated notes on plans
 - Observations in Learning Journals
 - Summary notes on pupils' work
 - Summary notes written by pupils
- On the spot feedback – this can take the form of oral or written feedback and is given during learning time in the presence of the pupil and can be recorded in different ways (see above)
- Distance marking – this takes place away from the pupils and gives opportunity for further analysis and reflection on pupils' progress in learning. It may lead to the need for further dialogue with pupils to celebrate successes in learning and inform discussion about application/next steps and/or fully diagnose misconceptions/errors.

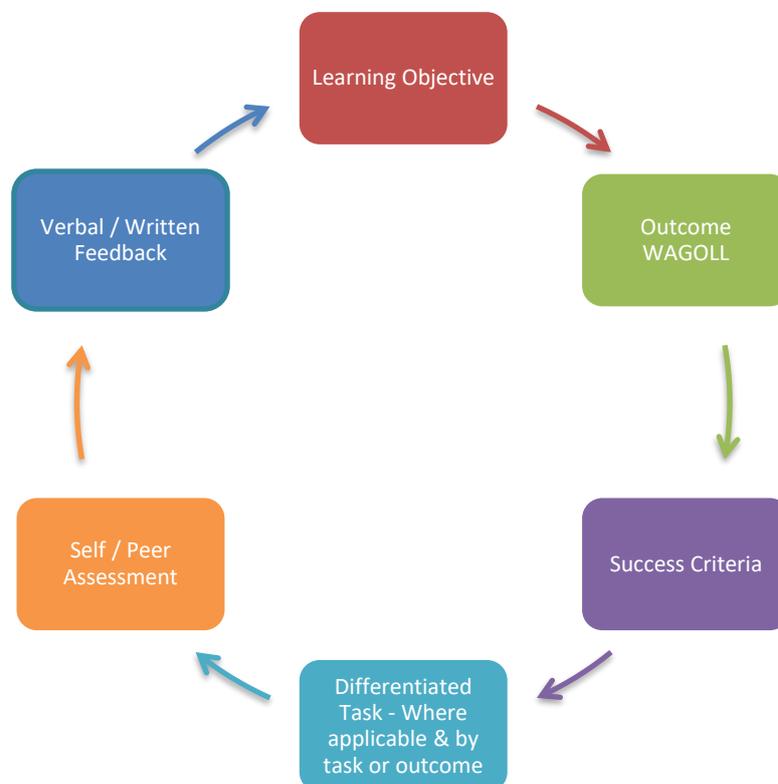

When distance marking, the following should be taken into consideration:

 - pupils should be able to read and understand the comments or have the comments explained to them
 - comments should be spelt correctly
 - the school handwriting policy should be followed when writing comments
- Self-assessment and evaluation – pupils are given the opportunity during 'Fix It Time' to reflect on their own learning; identify progress towards success criteria/targets etc and identify areas for improvement (for this to be successful, effective feedback and marking must first be modelled by the teacher; children must then be taught how to assess and evaluate their own learning/work). Pupils should be encouraged to continually look to improve their work and learning.
- Peer assessment and evaluation – when appropriate, pupils are given the opportunity to work with other pupils to assess and evaluate their own, and others' learning, and to make suggestions for improvement (see guidelines for training in Appendix B).

5. Feedback and Marking in the AfL Cycle

To maximise the impact of feedback and marking it must be embedded in effective assessment for learning:

- Pupils, and all adults in the classroom, must be clear about the learning taking place and the expected outcomes (eg. clear, focused learning objectives; success criteria which support these; learning activities which challenge pupils appropriately etc)
- Skilful questioning is used to explore pupils' understanding of the learning taking place; identify misconceptions; challenge and develop thinking, learning and understanding and thus provide opportunities for adults to give well-directed feedback
- When and where appropriate, mini plenaries give feedback to individuals/groups/whole class and address misconceptions; provide opportunities for extra challenge; allow pupils to reflect on their learning and make improvements during the lesson and over time.
- Effective self and peer assessment allows pupils to reflect on progress in their learning – identifying areas of success and opportunities for improvement (see Appendix B)
- Feedback and marking given will inform planning for learning

6. Expectations:

In English

- Reciprocal Reading/Guided Reading will be light touch marked
- Short writing opportunities should be marked in relation to the learning objective
- Longer and independent writing opportunities must include a 'what when well' and 'even better if'

Grammar, Punctuation and Spelling

Grammar and punctuation should be corrected according to the standard of attainment that the pupil is working at, which will be age related expectations for most pupils.

High frequency words, common exception words and spelling patterns that have been taught should be corrected according to the standard of attainment that the pupil is working at, which will be age related expectations for most pupils.

In topic work, technical language should be corrected when it is not spelt correctly and the GPS should be marked in the same way as work in English books. Dates and titles must be spelled correctly.

- In maths, correct answers will be ticked, but incorrect attempts will be marked with a C to show that a correction is needed and misconceptions dealt with by the teacher with the pupil as soon as possible (if possible, during the lesson or in a fix it time)
- In other areas of learning
 - Feedback and marking needs to acknowledge progress towards the learning objective which must be clear and skill based.
 - When writing has taken place, this needs to be marked with the same rigour as any longer/independent piece of writing.
- Pupils will be given allocated time to respond to any improvement comments in their work.
- When pupils are given an improvement comment, they should respond in purple pens so that their response is clear.
- `Quality marking` will enable pupils to understand their own achievements and know what they need to do next to make progress. It will set the pupil's particular performance in the context of the work's purpose and in the context of the pupil's previous efforts. It will provide positive feedback and promote high expectations or progress linked to the main learning objectives.
- Comments will be positive, including the areas for improvement / development.
