Headteacher Message

Dear Parents and Carers,

With our nation going into lock down yesterday we have been patiently waiting to see how this affects schools. Overall, changes are minimal with the expectation that we continue with the robust measures we already have in place. The wider changes have meant that we now have some members of staff having to work from home. The impact of this at times is less staff on site and different faces in particular classes. We are working hard to ensure this has minimal impact on the children yet still adheres to all government guidelines. Your understanding and patience with this is very much welcomed and appreciated.

Furthermore, it is more important than ever that places for breakfast and after school club are booked in on Monday for the upcoming week. This is to allow time for the school to plan staffing.

This week we have welcomed the children back to school with the reintroduction of our normal curriculum timetable. Attendance has been extremely positive despite the current uncertainty. Please continue to ensure your children attends school as the mental health and well being of all children is extremely important during this time.

Take care and have a lovely weekend.

this winter

STAY SAFE

If your child travels on their own, encourage them to take the safest and best-lit routes and to avoid dark shortcuts. Encourage them to walk confidently, even if they don't feel it, especially in the dark. Help them work out strategies for dealing with difficult situations in the dark so that they know what to do in an emergency.
